U. S. Set To Begin Draft Call

Registration Due In 6 Weeks

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Local draft boards will begin registering men within six weeks and the first draftees may be in uniform by late September, government officials said today.

Selective service machinery meshed into gear in the wake of President Truman's signing late yesterday of the 19-through-25 draft law. The President is expected to issue a registration proclamation shortly.

Mr. Truman also will appoint a national director of selective service as well as state directors. The top job probably will go to Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey who supervised the drafting of millions of Americans during World War II.

Selective service officials estimate it will take about six weeks to set up the 4,000-odd local boards throughout the country. Registration of men 18-through-25 will begin as soon as the boards are organized.

Under the 90-day clause in the new draft act, inductions can get under way Sept. 22. Actually, they could start earlier if the President should declare a national emergency. However, this is considered unlikely unless there are some unusual developments on the international scene.

Enlistment of 18-year-olds is expected to begin within the next few days. Those who volunteer will serve one year in the armed forces and then put in six years in the reserve. In this way, they will be exempt from the 21-month draft.

HALTS GUARD ENLISTMENTS

By signing the bill into law, the President put an end to the flood of enlistments in the National Guard and reserves by men seeking exemption from the draft.

Defense officials figure that some 900,000 men must be taken in during the year beginning July 1 if the services are to reach their newly authorized strength. Volunteers and reenlistments are being counted on to fill a large portion of the quota, leaving about 225,000 men to be drafted. More will be called, however, if the number of volunteers does not come up to expectations.

Exemptions include: Veterans with more than 12 months' service, or 90 days during the shooting war; clergymen, members of the armed forces and reserves, conscientious objectors and most public officials.

The President may defer at his discretion students, fathers, those with dependents, and men in essential jobs in industry and agriculture. He may also defer those engaged in vital research, medical personnel, and "those necessary to to maintenance of the national health, safety or interest."

The draft call will expire within two years unless ended sooner by congress or extended by that body.

Sees Truman Vote Fading

MARIANNA, Ark —(AP)— Gov. Ben Laney of Arkansas said here today "it is becoming more evident every week" that nomination of President Truman as the Democratic standard bearer is not assured.

The chairman of the states rights Democrats opposing Mr. Truman's civil rights program, declared:

"Our support is not confined to the south. The movement is growing in all sections."

Two Sisters Killed

FOREST —(AP)— Two sisters were killed yesterday when their family's automobile was struck by a New York Central train near here. The victims were Madeline Musgrave, 16, and her sister, Marjie, 13.

THOMAS E. DEWEY
. . . Republican party's choice for president

MRS. FRANCES HUTT DEWEY
. . . the wife of the Republican candidate for president is the mother of two boys; one 13, one 16 . . . native of Texas, she met Thomas E. Dewey in '20s while she was in chorus of George White's scandals . . . her only ambition is to be "my husband's wife."

EARL WARREN
. . . party's choice for vice president

Convention's Action Links East and West

CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia — (UP) — The Republicans by acclamation today named Gov. Earl Warren of California to run for vice president on the ticket headed by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

The choice was made with surprising suddenness after Arizona delegates decided to give up their plan to nominate Harold E. Stassen.

The 1,094 delegates to this 24th GOP national convention whooped the strapping, 57-year-old Californian into the party's No. 2 post and wound up their work at 12:30 p. m. (EST).

They had given Dewey the presidential nomination by unanimous vote last night on the third ballot, and they were pulling even closer together today.

In picking Warren for vice president, the delegates ratified Dewey's own choice of a running mate. The New York governor conferred with party leaders throughout the night and for three hours today before the decision was announced.

The vice presidential nomination actually was offered to Warren at 4 a. m. He did not immediately accept, and Dewey was reported leaning to Harold E. Stassen, one of his hardest-hitting competitors for the presidential nomination.

Today's conferences produced general agreement on Warren, however, and the Californian was in.

Four years ago in Chicago Warren turned down a chance to serve as Dewey's running-mate. Dewey ran with John W. Bricker and lost to the ticket headed by the late President Roosevelt.

This time, however, Warren allowed himself to be persuaded to take the post. But he posed a condition—that, if the ticket wins, the vice presidency be turned into "a working job."

Warren's name was placed in nomination by Lamar Tooze, a delegate from Portland, Ore., Alabama yielding for that purpose.

Arizona had planned to nominate Stassen, but by the time the nominating and seconding speeches for Warren were over, it had changed its mind.

Convention Chairman Joseph W. Martin jr. then put the motion for nominating the Californian by acclamation. It came so abruptly that people in the hall, taken by surprise, made no response, especially the camera men. So Martin gave the movie man an encore.

Martin banged his gavel and declared Warren nominated.

Martin named a committee headed by Sen. William F. Knowland of California to escort Warren to the convention hall.

In choosing a Dewey-Warren ticket the delegates picked two men whose careers show many parallels. Both are governors of big and powerful states. Both have a great vote-getting record.

Dewey was elected to a second term in 1946 with a majority of more than 700,000, the greatest ever given a governor.

In the last California gubernatorial primaries Warren, first elected in 1942, was nominated by both Democrats and Republicans.

The parallel extends even further back in their careers. Dewey rose to national prominence as a racket-busting prosecutor in New York. Warren used to be Alameda county (Oakland) district attorney and state attorney general. He is a specialist in criminal law.

The party unity demonstrated here in picking a campaign ticket had an echo in Washington. Sen. Joseph H. Ball (R-Minn.), who refused to support Dewey in 1944, said he would back the party ticket this year.

Warren and Dewey have been friends for many years. At annual meetings of the national council of state governors they usually are in each other's company.

Warren has visited Dewey at the executive mansion in Albany and Dewey has been Warren's guest in California.

Dewey's nomination last night broke a 92-year Republican tradition that the party never gave a loser a second chance.

Broken Back Won't Halt Wedding

STERLING, Ill. — (INS) — Although her fiance has a broken back, Miss Jeanne Brooks, 19, of Des Moines, Ia., believes it's bad luck to change a wedding date.

For that reason she and Osmund Byrnie, 19, also of Des Moines, gave notice today of their wedding next Sunday.

The ceremony will take place in Sterling public hospital where Byrnie is recovering from a broken back. he suffered when a truck upset. Their wedding date was set several months ago.

Senate Probe Of FCC Due

WASHINGTON — The "Radio Daily," a trade publication of the radio industry, reported today that a committee of senators will inquire into operation of the Federal Communications commission this summer in addition to the probe of the FCC voted last Saturday by the House.

The radio trade paper said that Senator Wallace H. White jr. of Maine had announced that he, Senator Charles W. Tobey of New Hampshire and Senator Ernest McFarland of Arizona will investigate licensing practices of the FCC as well as common carrier and international communications phases.

The paper quoted White as saying that he is anxious to have concrete recommendations for legislation before the Senate next year.

Speaker Martin of the House has not yet named the five-man committee which will probe charges against the FCC which grew out of charges that Edward Lamb of Toledo had received preferential treatment from the FCC. The "Radio Daily" stated, however, that it was taken for granted that Rep. Forest A. Harness of Indiana, author of the resolution calling for the inquiry, would be chairman of the House committee.

Rail Workers Ask Pay Hike

PITTSBURGH—(UP)—The CIO United Railroad Workers today announced that it will demand a 25 cents an hour wage increase for 60,000 Pennsylvania Railroad employes next Monday.

The union represents non-operating employes of the road and blacksmiths and machinists.

The union also will ask 11 other concessions, including a reduction in the work week from 48 to 40 hours; time and one half for Saturday work and double time for Sunday work; and shift differentials of five cents an hour for the second shift and 10 cents for the third shift.

Miners Win Wage Boost

Steel Balks On Agreement

(Compiled From Wire Services)

WASHINGTON — John L. Lewis and most of the soft coal operators today signed a new coal contract providing a $1-a-day wage increase and twice as much money for the miners' welfare-pension fund.

U. S. Steel corporation has refused to sign a new soft coal contract providing a union shop for the United Mine Workers.

Harry M. Moses, chief negotiator for the company and other captive coal mines owned by steel companies, walked out of the negotiating session with Union President John L. Lewis.

"I am not going to sign the contract," Moses told reporters. "I am not in agreement with what is going on in there."

Moses was asked why he wouldn't sign the agreement.

"Because of the union shop," he said. "I will have a statement later today."

Moses' action failed to block the completion of the contract, on which all segments of the industry had agreed as to the money terms.

Coal industry spokesmen said the new contract probably would mean a boost of about 40 cents a ton in coal prices. Terms of the new agreement give the miners a $1-a-day pay increase and a $100,000-a-year welfare and retirement fund.

Rescuers Save Crew of Tanker

NEW YORK—(AP)—The 44-man crew of a flame-swept Norwegian tanker has been picked up at sea, the master at one of the rescue vessels which sped to the scene, reported today.

The stricken vessel, the 9,804-ton Fenris, was abandoned 649 miles northwest of Brest, France yesterday. Fire and a series of explosions swept its engine-room and super structure.

Happy Over Victory of 'My Tom'

Light of Love Glows In Mrs. Dewey's Eyes

By HAL BOYLE

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—A look that doesn't come every day into a woman's eyes came at 8:19 last night into the eyes of Mrs. Thomas Dewey.

The handsome dark-haired woman was wearing a pert black hat—the kind men like because it ain't foolish—a neat black suit, and a rope of pearls.

She stood on a platform in convention hall beside the man who had just won the Republican presidential nomination.

She once told an interviewer that the only career she desired was to be "my husband's wife." And she was living up to her career.

As Governor Dewey threw up a confident hand to the cheering crowd, she turned on him the look that every husband who loves his wife sometimes hopes to see in her eyes. For her eyes said in shiny eloquence:

"Look at my man. Isn't he something? My Tom. They're cheering you again."

And she knew that every woman in the vast crowd of 14,000 people there knew the pride she felt, for all women see these things in other women's eyes. And so do a lot of men, too.

I think, being all my life fundamentally juvenile and in love with my own wife, Frances, that in this—our busy civilization—the thing that wives desire most is to be more with their husbands, and to share more in the worries they try to hold to themselves.

That is why I think that even witty Martha Taft must have gone to sleep Thursday night with a feeling of relief.

She must have enjoyed the feminine consolation, alleviating to the hurt of her husband's defeat, that Senator Bob will be with her more often for the next few months—or years—than if he had won.

It is a wonderful thing to see your wife's eyes looking at you in love and admiration when you are the knight of the moment, tossing your hand in victory to the crowd.

It is even more wonderful to see her turn to you in your hour of outside defeat with her eyes of inside love and loyalty.

That is the reward today for a number of Republican candidates for the party's nomination. They'll have more fun at home for a long time than the man who beat them.

He's got to be a traveling salesman.

Russians Do 'About-Face

BERLIN —(UP)— Russia made another of her bewildering turnabouts in cold war strategy today.

Allied officials in Helmstedt, on the border between the British and Soviet zones of Germany, announced that the Soviet commander at Marienborn, Russian boundary control point, had said that freight shipments to Berlin from the west could be resumed Monday.

The Russian action reopening the Allied route to Berlin came after a series of Soviet blows apparently designed to force the western powers clear out of the German capital. The Russian moves had seemed near to achieving that end.

In earlier reprisal moves the Soviets had choked off food supplies from the west by halting all traffic into and out of Berlin except by air. The western allies had made it plain that they could not supply the Germans in their sectors by air.

HEALTH CHIEF FOUND DEAD

LOUISVILLE, Ky. —(AP)—Kentucky's state health commissioner, Dr. Philip Earle Blackerby, 66, was found dead in his home here yesterday.

Way Opened For Project

Trimble Road To Be Made 2-Lane Route

A big step toward relieving traffic congestion at Senior high football games was taken today when the American Telephone and Telegraph company agreed to move telephone poles on Trimble road to permit the city to widen it.

The county already has widened the road from West Fourth street south to the railroad bridge at the B. & O. tracks and has completed bridge widening operations.

The telephone company has agreed to move the poles running along the road from the B. & O. tracks, south to Park avenue west.

Street Superintendent E. W. Davis announced today that this will permit the city to widen the road and make it two-lane road.

Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals explained that hereafter, prior to football games, the road will be a two-lane, one-way thoroughfare running north, and that after the game, traffic will be routed south.

Last year, congestion resulted because Trimble road was wide enough only to permit one lane of cars, and most of the traffic was forced to move down West Fourth street, Boals said.

Work on the Mulberry street viaduct which has been closed more than two months, is being held up, Davis said, because wood needed to floor the structure has not been delivered. The city has contracted with the Baker Wood Preserving company, Marion, to supply the needed materials.

Davis said the company had reported that the wood was in transit.

Housewife's Broom Skill Ousts Thief

CHICAGO —(INS)— Mrs. Helen Jung, 53, a neat and meticulous Chicago housewife who knows how to wield a broom, literally swept a burglar from her home yesterday.

After tidying up the sidewalk with her broom, Mrs. Jung reentered her home and found a burglar. She started swinging the broom with abandon, cracking him over the head, and the unwelcome intruder fled.

Her screams attracted neighbors who called police. Later police nabbed David Jackson, 56, a parolee, as he boarded a trolley bus. In his pocket police found a watch which Mrs. Jung identified as hers.

Today Mrs. Jung went shopping to replace her broken broom.

GOP Picks 'New' Dewey As Its Standard Bearer

Dignity Replaces 1940 Brassiness

By FRANK VAN DER LINDEN

PHILADELPHIA — It was a "new" Tom Dewey who won the Republican nomination for president last night.

He is a far, far cry from the brash and brassy young prosecutor who came to Philadelphia so cockily in 1940—but lost the presidential nomination to Wendell Willkie.

This was a much more mature man than the reckless Republican candidate who battled Franklin D. Roosevelt, "the champ," in 1944, and went down swinging wildly.

This new Tom Dewey appeared to be a poised and polished politician, with new dignity and restraint and self-control—sure of himself but not cocksure; efficient as ever but more friendly, more genial, more like a man among men and less like a cold machine.

No doubt his ambition still drives him as tirelessly as ever, but it is better concealed than before.

It is like the quiet motor beneath the hood of the New York governor's streamlined limousine. The engine is there, purring powerfully away, but it is silent and smooth and completely under control.

Propelled by this power, Dewey looked like a man who knew precisely where he was going and had paused in Philadelphia only long enough for some rather irksome but necessary formalities.

The difference between this pause and his previous ones was that he seemed to enjoy it, this time.

Nominee's Family Calls Farm 'Home'

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Highlights of the career of Thomas E. Dewey:

Born in Owosso, Mich., March 24, 1902, son of George and Annie Dewey. Graduated from University of Michigan with A B. degree in 1923. Graduated from Columbia University law school in 1925.

Married Frances Eileen Hutt of Sapulpa, Okla., in 1928. They have two sons, Thomas E. jr. 16, and John M., 13.

Legal residence is a suite in the Hotel Roosevelt, New York City, Albany residence is the New York state executive mansion, but he and his family call their Pawling, N. Y., farm "home."

In 1931 became chief assistant U. S. attorney for Southern New York state and later served briefly as U. S. attorney. In 1935 became special prosecutor of New York county. Was elected district attorney of New York county in 1937 and won fame as a racket buster.

In 1938 Republican nominee for governor of New York. Gov. Herbert H. Lehman defeated him. In 1940 sought Republican presidential nomination. Wendell Willkie won it.

In 1942 elected New York's first Republican governor in nearly 20 years.

Republican presidential nominee in 1944, defeated by President Roosevelt.

Re-elected governor by a record majority of 687,151 in 1946.

Last night, nominated for president by Republican party

Youths Face Severe Penalty

Ducks In Park Found Clubbed to Death

Two young men who yesterday had a yearning for a little roast duck today found themselves in the county jail awaiting hearing on charges of hunting and killing ducks out of season.

The ducks in question were two tame mallard drakes residing in a pond in a state roadside park near Olivesburg on State Route 96.

The young men were Robert Barrett, 18, of 656 Bowman street, and Earl McNeely, 21, of 96 Raymond avenue.

Sheriff's deputies arrested the youths at 9:30 p. m. after Dave Walker, 17, of Olivesburg, saw them "beating around" in the tall grass which surrounds the pond. Young Walker detained the two while his father, Charles Walker, who lives nearby, called the sheriff.

Walker said the ducks had lived in the pond for several years, feeding on bits of picnic lunches tossed to them by park visitors. He said the men probably had found it easy to capture and club the mallards to death due to the ducks' friendly nature.

The Walkers were on hand this morning to testify in court if the men were arraigned.

Sheriff Frank E. Robinson said, however, the men probably would not be brought before municipal court until Saturday morning.

Claude F. Ewing, assistant Richland county prosecuting attorney, said the penalty for hunting and killing ducks out of season was a fine of $15 to $200.

North Reservoir Promises Best Week-End Ohio Fishing

By JAMES DAILEY

COLUMBUS—(UP)—North reservoir, of the beautiful Portage lakes system in Summit county today promised the best fishing for the weekend on the basis of a report from the state conservation division

The report said each angler at the reservoir during the past week caught almost two fish per hour on the average, most of the take being made up of bluegills The division said 66 per cent of the fish taken were of that variety while bass, crappies and channel cats made up the difference

Portage lakes lying just south of State Route 224 on Routes 93 and 619, contain over 2 250 acres of clear, clean water studded among the hills of southern Summit county

There, 12 lakes and reservoirs are linked by channels and canals to form 47 miles of shore line for the recreation of the people of near Akron and Barberton and for any other outsiders who care to join them

The fishing, right now running to bluegills, channel cats and bass, is superb

Runner-up to North Reservoir in the conservation division report is Seneca lake near Cambridge where fishermen caught a little over one fish per hour on the average Seventy-six per cent of these were crappies and 19 per cent bluegills

At Pleasant Hill reservoir fishermen averaged 1 07 fish per hour, at Buckeye lake .97 fish per hour, at Leesville, 1 1, and at Jackson lake the catch averaged one fish per hour per angler

Bluegills seemed to predominate in most of the catches At Lake Loramie, though the fishing in general was poor, more than 35 per cent of the take was in that species

Thirty per cent of the catch at Buckeye lake was in bluegills and almost 20 per cent of the total at Seneca was the same At Leesville lake 90 per cent of the catch was in bluegills and at Jackson they made up 84 per cent

Dave Albritton Heads Field In AAU High Jump Tomorrow

BEREA — (UP) — The lineup of entries for the northeastern Ohio AAU track championships at Baldwin-Wallace tomorrow gave promise that high jump records are almost certain to fall

Dave Albritton, 36-year-old Daytonian, is the favorite to win the high jump and break the B-W field record of six feet 3½ inches set in 1944 by Bob Peterka of the Yellow Jackets Albritton may also topple the meet record of 6 feet 6 inches set in 1934 by Ed Burke, then competing for Marquette university

Albritton, former Ohio State star, for some years was co-holder of the world record, 6 feet 9¾ inches He has won eight national championships, his most recent being last summer at Lincoln, Neb, where he cleared 6 feet 8 inches

A torrid two-mile duel is promised between Mike Stavole of Miami, who already has qualified for the final Olympic trials, and Pat Radihugh, Purdue freshman who was second in the 3 000-meter steeplechase at the Northwestern AAU championships last week at Minneapolis

Feature of the meet however, will be Harrison Dillard s attempts to notch his 79th and 80th consecutive victories

Jap Trade Comeback Outlook Dim

Empire's Teaching Proving Barrier

By RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO—(AP)— The teachings of Japan's empire builders have come back at an evil hour—just as the nation is trying to rebuild its war-shattered economy.

This is emphasized in a report on food resources by Col. N. H. Vissering and R. E. Vickery of the Army's office of food administration. They have just returned from China and Southern Asia, where the empire builders did their work.

These investigators found two major barriers to reviving the Asiatic trade on which Japan must rely to rebuild.

One is the hatred and fear of Japanese, born of wartime Japanese brutality. This is most marked in China and the Philippines.

The investigators say this sentiment cannot be underestimated in evaluating Japan's future chances of getting food in trade from her neighbors.

NATIONALISM INTENSE

The other barrier is an "intense nationalism on the part of Asiatic countries." This was fostered by the Japanese conquerors themselves in forming their so-called "East Asiatic co-prosperity sphere." But the Japanese had intended to harness this nationalism.

The investigators report this nationalism is "coupled with a determination to achieve national self-sufficiency."

"All countries visited," they added, "are intensively planning to duplicate the industries which Japan is counting on as a basis for trade."

Another factor to be reckoned with by the Japanese is "a growing tendency on the part of Asiatic countries toward government-controlled economics." That is bound to complicate trading.

Ironically, even this in part can be laid to Japanese imperialism. The Japanese imperialists wanted tight government control in the subjugated countries for the benefit of the imperialists.

CHICKENS COME HOME

The investigators found other chickens coming home to roost.

The Japanese planners emphasized cotton growing and textile manufacturing in the conquered countries, upon which they drew heavily in goods and raw materials to keep their war machine going.

Now, say the investigators, textile spinning has received top priority in most southwest Asia countries. With the collapse of the silk market in the United States, Japan relies on textiles as its chief export.

That is a great blow. With North Korea and Manchuria under communist control, Japan must turn to southwest Asia.

She must buy food there to make up deficiencies and she must sell her manufactured goods there to finance the purchases.

American officials who are trying to revive Japan and get her off the neck of U. S. taxpayers have inherited a diabolical legacy from the Japanese imperialists.

Boys Cruise Mississippi In Home-made Houseboat

NATCHEZ, Miss —(INS)— The mighty Mississippi was proving no problem today for four boys and a dog.

The four who started their cruise down the river at Bowling Green, Ky., stopped briefly at Natchez and then continued on toward New Orleans.

Aboard the home-made houseboat they have called the "River Rat," are Bob Faxon, 18, and James Chestnut, 18, both of Bowling Green, and Herb and Gaines Peyton of Jacksonville, Fla.

There was no welcoming committee to greet the travelers at their Natchez stop. They floated down river, arriving unexpectedly, and stayed at a Natchez dock only about five minutes before pushing off again.

Czechs Denounce Six-Power Accord

PRAGUE —(INS)— The Czech News Agency yesterday denounced the six-power London accord on Germany, in what was believed a preview of the declaration expected from the current Warsaw conference.

The government-controlled agency confirmed that high-ranking officials of Russia and seven other eastern European states are presently convening in the Polish capital.

WAGE TALKS REOPEN

EAST LIVERPOOL—(AP)—Representatives of the Valley Motor Transit company and its 127 striking AFL bus drivers have resumed wage negotiations here in an attempt to end the workers' 19-day walkout, which has tied up public transportation for 20 Ohio river communities from Steubenville, O., to Beaver, Pa.

'Numbers' Racket Suspects Face Charges In Pickaway

CIRCLEVILLE —(AP)— Three men were arraigned yesterday on indictments involving a "numbers" racket allegedly carried on in a building opposite police headquarters.

At the same time a secret indictment against Harold O. Eveland charging embezzlement of $8,588 in state and county funds was made public.

Eveland, who resigned earlier this month as Circleville township justice of the peace, told Pickaway Prosecuting Attorney Kenneth M. Robbins that he had lost money in gambling here.

Secret indictments against Gerald Hanley, 42, and Robert Pickens, 33, for alleged operation of a bookie house were disclosed on their arraignment. The pleaded innocent and were released on bonds.

Wayne Leist was indicted on a separate count on a charge of operating a numbers game. He denied the charge and was released on bond.

Eveland obtained his release after posting $5,000 pending a hearing.

Mansfield Kiwanis club members saw a picture of themselves and their activities Thursday at their noon luncheon meeting in the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

A movie entitled "Fred Jones, Kiwanian," pictured the average Kiwanian's club activities and responsibilities to the community. Among the activities presented in the picture were camp sponsoring for boys and girls, better living conditions, education for the citizens of the future, and club-sponsored recreation for the youth of America.

A. G. Earnshaw, Kiwanis club president, presided at the meeting and Stanleigh Vinson served as program chairman.

New State In German Zone Planned By Communists

WARSAW--(U.P.)—Soviet Russia and her seven satellite states have completed plans for conversion of the Soviet occupation zone of Germany into a separate state with its own government, well informed sources here believe.

Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who directed the biggest conference yet held on the east side of the so-called iron curtain, will return to Moscow today, it was learned authoritatively.

His plans for departure were taken as indicating that his work here is finished, and that he will return to the Russian capital to direct Russian tactics in the battle of Germany.

Molotov presided at yesterday's session, which brought foreign ministers and staffs of all Russian satellites here, it was said.

The conference will continue through today and perhaps into Saturday, it was believed.

It was assumed that officials of the satellite nations might discuss mutual problems during the remainder of the conference, but all important decisions were believed to have been taken while Molotov was in attendance.

The closely controlled Warsaw press carried neither official information nor speculation regarding the conference.

No details of Russia's plans for the new east German state—the Soviet answer to the six-power decision of the western allies for a unified western Germany—were available in any quarter.

(In Berlin, an American-licensed German newspaper said the new East German state would be proclaimed June 30 or July 1, and that the Russian-sponsored Berlin city assembly would be its first governing body.)

NATIVE OHIOAN James Grover McDonald of New York is President Truman's choice as special representative of United States to new provisional government of Israel. McDonald, 61, was born in Coldwater, Mercer county, Ohio. (International)

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

All Memphis Helping Plan Wedding of 'Miss America'

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —(INS)— Miss America will be married Saturday in the most elaborate wedding ceremony ever witnessed in Memphis. Everyone is taking a hand in the plans.

The All-American beauty, Barbara Walker, will be married to Dr. John Hummel, young medical intern from Charleston, Mo.

The wedding plans are extravagant.

For instance, the Memphis florists are decorating the First Methodist church with 5,000 gladioli, among other flowers, in an effort to form a perfect background for the pretty bride.

City mounted police will form a block-long escort for the bridal pair. Firemen will illuminate the church steeple with department floodlight equipment.

More than 2,000 guests are expected, and representatives of newsreels, national magazines, radio and newspapers have bid for invitations.

The wedding cake, 60 inches round and 30 inches tall, is being air expressed from Selma, Ala. It was made especially for Barbara by a former childhood friend, baker Herschel Beattys.

The minute Miss America becomes Mrs. Hummel, things are going to change. Then, it's Barbara's turn to make the decisions.

She does not plan to reveal the destination of the couple's wedding trip, explaining: "That's part of Barbara's life, not Miss America's."

The heart of a woman normally beats on the average about eight times a minute faster than a man's does.

Death-Driver's Fine Awarded to Widow

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The widow of a traffic victim, Mrs. Mary Behm, 63, has been awarded the $250 fine paid by the convicted driver of the automobile which fatally injured her husband, Frank, 71.

Common Pleas Judge Clifford L. Belt of Belmont county found James A. Penberthy, 22, guilty of second-degree manslaughter in the case and ordered his fine turned over to Mrs. Behm.

Dewey Pledges Government Cleanup, Firm Foreign Policy

Thousands Hear Talks By Nominee

Activities Last Until Morning

PHILADELPHIA—(INS)—Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican party's 1948 standard bearer, served notice today that he will campaign for the White House largely on two major issues:

1.—Elimination of inefficiency in the federal government and the cleaning out of communists.

2.—Adoption of a firm foreign policy which will let the world know the United States is ready to assume leadership for peace.

To a cheering throng shortly after his nomination, he promised:

"Next January will see the beginning of the greatest housecleaning in Washington in the history of our government."

Gov. Dewey made his views known in his acceptance speech, in extemporaneous talks to cheering throngs and in conferences with party leaders which lasted until the early hours of this morning.

His arrival on the platform in convention hall last night was the signal for a terrific roar from the delegates and spectators.

Dewey delivered his acceptance speech slowly and gravely.

He said:

"The responsibility and the opportunity that have come to our party are the greatest in the history of free government. For tonight our future—our peace, our prosperity, the very fate of freedom—hangs in a precarious balance.

"Mere victory in an election is not our task or our purpose. Our task is to fill our victory with such meaning that mankind everywhere, yearning for freedom, will take heart and move forward out of this desperate darkness into the light of freedom's promise."

Dewey's acceptance of the nomination was only the beginning of a hectic night. He rode back to the Bellevue-Stratford in triumph waving to the crowds along the route.

Wild cheers greeted the nominee. Bits of paper were showered from the balconies, hats and umbrellas were waved.

He told his party workers he was "profoundly grateful" for their work in his behalf. He said this was the first important political headquarters run by women — and that it was "the greatest ever."

He then went to the marquee in front of the hotel and addressed a crowd of several thousand persons.

Dewey then turned his guns on the Truman administration for the first time since his nomination. He declared:

"Beginning next January we can start to restore teamwork to government and unity to the government of the United States.

"Mr. Truman had to ask for 25 million dollars to find the communists in his government and get rid of them. Well, you know, we have a chance to get an administration at last that won't appoint them in the first place."

The convention will close Sunday.

The members also approved a proposal for a ministerial inquiry into Irgunist claims in connection with the battling touched off by the attempt to land arms from the gun-running ship Altalena. Seven ministers were named to conduct the inquiry.

City Enjoys Cool Night

Mansfielders enjoyed their first cool evening in several days last night after refreshing showers and a brisk wind forced the mercury down into the high 60's.

Although the thermometer threatened to reach 80 or above by afternoon today, the weatherman predicted that showers were still in the picture and that occasional rain would fall during the week-end.

Yesterday's high reading was 81 at 3:30 p. m. in Mansfield, but Chesapeake residents perspired in an unpleasant 92-degree high. Not quite so warm was the weather report from the north and western sections of the state. Showers were general over Ohio.

The weather bureau's five-day outlook for Ohio follows:

Temperatures will average a little above normal during the period. Cooler weather Saturday, with somewhat warmer weather early next week. Showers in the west portion Saturday and scattered showers over the entire area Sunday and Monday. Total rainfall will average about one-quarter to one-half inch.

Two $20,000 Damage Suits Filed

Plaintiffs Seek Judgments In Mishaps

A $20,000 damage action, resulting from a crash on the Ashland hill Dec. 15, 1947, was filed yesterday in common pleas court.

The suit was brought by Eaton E. Mason, 987 Ashland road, against F. J. Egner and Son, Inc., of Galion, and Cecil C. Kendell, Newark.

Mason contends the defendants were negligent in that a motor truck and two trailers they operated were permitted to skid and go out of control while going down the Ashland hill, resulting in a collision with his car.

He asks the sum for injuries, medical and hospital expenses and damages to his car.

In another action, Galen E. Zolman, 164 Burns street, also seeks damages of $20,000.

Zolman sued Zeno L. Hursh, Shelby, R. D. 3, contending the car Hursh was driving struck a motorcycle driven by Zolman, resulting in severe injuries to Zolman and damage to the cycle.

The plaintiff charges Hursh gave no indication he was going to turn left as Zolman was passing the car on North Mulberry street Sept. 15, 1947.

Attorneys Anderson, Will and O'Donnell represent the plaintiffs in the two actions.

2 AMEND ACTIONS

Two amended petitions were filed as the result of a collision on U. S. Route 42 on Oct. 26, 1947.

William Molnar, Cleveland, asks $60,000 from Harvey Klepser and Lloyd W. Bennett of Ashland, who, his petition states, are in the cab business in Ashland.

Molnar said Bennett was careless and negligent, causing a collision with the Molnar car. He asks the sum for personal injuries, loss of earnings and medical expenses.

He is represented by Attorneys Morris I. Goldsmith and Edward Lurie of Cleveland.

A passenger in the Molnar car, Frances Runyon, 1031 West Fourth street, asks $12,500 for injuries and medical care as a result of the accident. Her attorney is Goldsmith.

Ambassador To China Quits

PEIPING—(U.P.)—U. S. Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart said today he had submitted his resignation to Secretary of State Marshall and will become president of Yenching university if his resignation is accepted.

Sources close to Stuart said his resignation had been in the hands of Marshall for some time, therefore his action could not be blamed or traced to the recent pressure by Chinese students when he criticized them for their anti-American attacks.

Stuart said he wanted to return to the presidency of Yenching university, a post which he held when he was named U. S. ambassador.

Baby Deer as Pets Might Be Costly, Says Game Protector

WARREN —(U.P.)— Baby deer are cute pets but they're likely to run into money, Game Protector William Min-Young warned Ohioans today.

Min-Young, who has confiscated six of the animals in the last few days, said the law provides fines of $15 to $200 each on three counts for keeping the deer. They are for taking, transporting or possessing the youngsters.

Of the six confiscated, Min-Young said, one was found under a back porch, one in a barn, one in a shed, one in a living room, one in a steel plant, and one under the front porch of a residence.

Two of the six, he said, died in their captivity.

The game protector warned that tame deer are unpredictable and dangerous. He said two Geauga county children were hospitalized because a supposedly domesticated deer attacked them with hooves and horns.

Once handled by humans, the game warden said, a deer cannot be turned loose again because a mother deer will not approach a fawn once held in captivity. Even a domesticated adult deer will not touch a baby deer which has been fondled by humans, Min-Young said.

Corn Reaching Knee-High Mark

CHICAGO —(AP)— More than knee high by the Fourth of July appeared to be a certainty today for the nation's all important corn crop.

Traditionally, corn should be knee high by July 4 if the country is to have a good harvest. It already is knee high in several midwest areas and growing rapidly as a result of heavy rains in the past 48 hours.

Light Called Crash Cause

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The Civil Aeronautics board found yesterday that a defective light may have caused the April crash of a Pan-American plane near Shannon, Eire, in which 30 persons were killed.

The board's accident investigation report stated that the probably direct cause of the crash was "the continuation of an instrument approach to an altitude insufficient to clear the terrain."

The report added that "an erroneous reading" of one of the flight instruments could have resulted in a fatal miscalculation, and pointed out that the pilot had been having trouble with the fluorescent light shining with his instrument panel. It stated that failure of the light could have been "a contributing factor" in the crash.

Board Gives Ruling In Jobless Pay Case

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The board of review of the bureau of unemployment compensation ruled yesterday that you can't collect jobless pay if you quit work to go to another city where there are no jobs you can do. The ruling came in the case of a woman who left Cleveland, went to Illinois for six months, then to St. Petersburg, Fla., and finally returned to Cleveland, where she found a new job.

Schools Frown On 'The Nation'

NEW YORK —(AP)— The magazine "The Nation" has been dropped from the approved periodical list for New York City's public schools.

Dr. William Jansen, superintendent of schools, said a series of anti-Catholic articles in the magazine prompted the board of superintendents to take action recently.

Miss Freda Kirchwey, editor and publisher of "The Nation," called the ban "underhanded."

"As an institution operating in the secular field," the New York Times quoted Miss Kirchwey as saying, "the Roman Catholic church has and can have no immunity from discussion or even

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Ralph S. Trigg, a U. S. department of agriculture official, urged farmers to speed up soil protection yesterday. "We still need near peak production to meet national and world food needs," he said, "but we must not neglect x x x the soil."

GOP Again Presents Dewey

HARMONY—that is the word which best expresses the quick agreement on Thomas E. Dewey as the unanimous choice of the Republican national convention for nomination as the party's candidate for the presidency.

The recess which came after two ballots at the yesterday afternoon session served to bring together the forces which had earnestly striven to gain the nomination for one or another of the candidates whose names had been entered.

When it became apparent, during the second ballot, that Governor Dewey was moving rapidly toward the required majority of 548 votes, there was graceful acquiescence on the part of all of the other contenders, with release of their pledged delegates and suggestion that the votes of these delegates go to Dewey.

Thus, instead of attempting a much-talked-about deadlock, a spirit of unity was evidenced and all outward appearance of party dissension was eliminated.

Senator Robert A. Taft, Ohio's "favorite son" candidate, held second position in both the first and second ballots and his attitude before and during the convention was such as to reflect credit on himself and the state which he so ably represents in the United State Senate.

His withdrawal from the contest, in order to assure unanimous nomination of Governor Dewey also evidences his willingness to place party above self in the field of politics.

Now that the Republican candidate for the presidency has been chosen, interest will turn, for the next couple of weeks to a similar task that confronts the Democratic party.

While there have been rumblings of discontent within the party, it now appears that the nomination of President Truman is assured and there is quite generally expressed belief that he will be defeated at the November election.

Acceptance of Republican victory as a foregone conclusion presents an unfortunate situation, insofar as the coming campaign is concerned, for it tends to reduce public interest in issues that should be fully discussed by spokesmen of both parties, so that voters may have opportunity to become better informed on national and international affairs and be thus enabled to understand some of the things that have been confusing in both foreign and domestic matters.

Better attitude of both political parties during the campaign, it would appear, would be to regard the outcome of the presidential contest as uncertain—so that neither overconfidence nor anticipation of defeat will weaken efforts to assure an informed electorate.

Some Gambling Is Still Illegal

ACCORDING to Ohio supreme court decision, religious, charitable and patriotic organizations can continue to hold their bingo parties—under the exception made in the 1943 act of legislature.

Bingo is illegal, therefore, when it is played for the operator's "own profit," but there is appearance of failure to cover the point of requirement for paid managerial and clerical service in cases where games are ostensibly operated by various organizations allowed under the law, but which pay a manager and other employes a considerable part of the profits instead of all profits being used for charitable, benevolent or humanitarian purposes, as intended.

But, after all, why quibble about whether or not bingo is legal or illegal, while so many other unquestionably illegal gambling operations are permitted to operate without interference from law enforcement officials—in cities such as Mansfield, for instance, where the mayor has adopted a "hands off" policy and the chief of police retreats behind a "no comment" screen?

When Airplanes Fall In Cities

THIS TIME it happened in Detroit—but it could happen anywhere, unless some way is found to stop the foolish practice of unnecessarily flying airplanes over cities, with some pilots inclined to perform stunts and to fly dangerously low.

In Detroit it was the collision of two Navy fighter planes, flying in seven-ship formation over the city, that resulted in the death of both pilots.

Wreckage of the planes started fires in which four homes and a tool shop were damaged, while scores of residents fled to safety.

Although the danger involved in such air exhibitions is recognized, nothing much is done about it—and probably nothing will be done until such occurrences become more frequent.

June Is Also the Cherry Pie Month

WHAT IS so delightful as a day in June? Why, a fresh cherry pie, of course. And that season is close at hand. Already one observer reports that birds have left cherry pits in his bird bath, indicating that the robins are a bit ahead of us mortals in enjoying the crimson delicacy of early summer.

But soon the boughs that recently were hung with snow-like blossoms will be bending with the weight of clusters of gleaming red cherries. The birds will leave plenty for you to pick. (Incidentally, be sure that step-ladder is steady before you climb it.)

There's probably no better place for a conversation than two people sitting beside a basket of fragrant cherries pitting the fruit for pies. Once the talk and the pitting have ended, the wise cook will be very sparing with flour or corn starch for thickening. She knows how much better-tasting the pie will be when the natural juice seeps scarlet-ly through the crust and cooks down to a rich consistency around the ample supply of cherries.

Not even the Thanksgiving turkey can top that nostril-tickling, palate-tempting first cherry pie of the season.

Claude Callan insists: "There still is good in the world, but you hear little about it because it isn't nearly so interesting as the bad."

Viewing the National Scene

It's the American Way

By THOMAS L. STOKES

PHILADELPHIA — In that peculiar American institution — the national political convention—we create every four years a dream world, a combination circus and revival meeting, taking time out from our sins and the humdrum realities of life.

It is the only place outside of a circus sideshow where you can see mere men, meaning fellows who would like to be President, blown into giant size on flamboyant posters that proclaim for them virtues not even possessed by the minor gods.

This spirit of fancy is carried over into what a political convention does and says, particularly in its grandiose claims of past achievement and its glowing promises for the future, having little to do with reality.

To shift metaphors, a party in convention assembled is like the sinner who has hit the sawdust trail at the exhortations of the sweating itinerant evangelist, and now believes the man he is in his moment of exultation is the man he always was and the man he always will be in the future. He believes himself into salvation.

It is all human and natural and does no special harm—maybe some good. Anyhow, we Americans do it that way.

There is now, for the record, the platform of the Republican convention drafted under the skillful and energetic management of handsome and politically-wise young Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts. Incidentally, here is a man to watch for the future.

It is a fine and inspiring document—concise, and with no more than the usual straddling generalities.

But, when you read the commitment for an effective policy of international co-operation, which is a real accomplishment and which was won only after quite a struggle, you nevertheless recall how the Republican House of Representatives tried to tear down our reciprocal tariff program and pared down the European Recovery Program appropriations just a few days ago—there in Washington where the party operates in actuality, and not here in Philadephia where it dreams its dreams.

* * *

Attractive Promises.

ITS PLATFORM commitment is an achievement certainly. But the reality in Washington serves as a warning of the formidable task ahead of party leaders who want real international co-operation.

The platform pledge for federal aid to states for slum clearance and low-rent housing where these cannot be done by private enterprise or by states and localities is fine, too.

But it offers a striking contrast to the reality of the group of House leaders who, operating for real-estate interests, killed the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill that would have accomplished what is again promised in its platform as it was four years ago.

For the last two years there likewise has been pending in the Republican Congress measures to extend social security benefits and to grant assistance to states for better health, medical and educational facilities.

But perhaps some hope can be taken from the fact that the party again went on a promissory note for these things as it did four years ago.

The party that freed the slaves and thus wrote a great chapter in American history at its birth again pledged in this platform, as it did four years ago, to secure civil rights still lacking and to remove discriminations against minorities of all kinds.

This is the Philadelphia story. The Washington story is that, still pending after two years, there are bills to abolish the poll tax, to make lynching a federal crime, to remove segregation in the armed forces, and to remove discrimination in jobs on account of race, creed or color all of which are promised.

Washington Calling

How 'Deals' Are Made

By MARQUIS CHILDS

PHILADELPHIA — The chief defects of our system of choosing a president are not those which immediately assault the casual observer. The blaring bands, the gaudy headquarters, the pretty girls passing out buttons, the general circus atmosphere — all this seems ill-matched with the solemnity of the decision to be taken.

But most of it must be put down to sheer exuberance and part of it is staged for the benefit of those who want to get their money's worth out of a trip to the convention. It has very little to do with the selection of a nominee.

What goes on behind the noisy sideshow is the serious business of making deals for delegates. It is this backstairs dealing that can hogtie the new president, committing his administration to men and even to policies that may prove a crippling handicap. Thus the ambitious candidate takes on a long-term mortgage on his future in the White House.

Take a minor example of how it works. The chairman of the delegation from the grand old state of Michawauka (the names are fictitious but the case is a real one) is a very rich and somewhat pompous gentleman with showy ambitions, named Ponsonby Tolliver. All through the famine years while the Democrats were in power Ponsonby and his equally rich wife have been helping to pay the Republican bills.

They have worked faithfully, going to grubby local meetings, attending all state and national conventions. Now this is the year of victory and Ponsonby and his determined wife are expecting some of the fruits thereof. In fact, they came to Philadelphia glowing with antipication.

Back home their friends say, enviously, that the Tolliers already have their trunks packed for London. It is Ponsonby's not-so-secret ambition to be ambassador to Britain. And if Mr. T. doesn't get that prize, Mrs. T's outraged cries will be heard from Nome to Miami.

The practical political fact is that Tolliver pretty much controls the Mishawauka delegation. The manager for candidate X gets to him first and there is a solemn, handshaking promise that come January 23 the name of Ponsonby Tolliver will go to the Senate as the new ambassador to the Court of St. James.

* * *

Real Ability Needed.

IN THE older, simpler days—often known as the good old days—there were quite a few random plums that could be promised to the fat cats by discreet delegate brokers. Ambassadorial posts came under that classification.

But today an ambassador to Britain should be a man of skill, understanding and broad knowledge, who is aware of the supreme importance of a workable relationship between the two countries. While Ponsonby would have been a handsome ambassador in the good old days, it is highly doubtful that he possesses the qualifications for the present responsibility.

Such is the kind of brokerage that went on in the scramble for delegates among the competing candidates in what is laughingly called an open convention.

These deals occur in a frantic atmosphere in which it seems almost impossible to complete a telephone call or get above the street level in a hotel elevator.

Sending good old Ponsonby to London may not do too much harm. But here are other types of deals that can play hob with matters far more vital to the nation.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Circus, Jamboree and Democracy Mixed

By DREW PEARSON

PHILADELPHIA — Watching the picking of a president: Delegates in convention lobbies, delegates in hotel lobbies, delegates eating hot dogs, lady delegates, gray-haired, slightly paunching delegates—marching in the aisles, carrying banners, sleep-eyed, singing delegates, deadly serious, fighting-mad delegates, a mixture of P. T. Barnum, a boy scout jamboree and real democracy . . . Golden-voiced Congressman George Bender of Ohio, with a megaphone rolled out of the Chicago Tribune, shouting the Taft theme song in the middle of a hotel lobby . . . Senator Taft "shaking hands" with a baby elephant . . . Negroes picketing the Convention Hall, their signs read: "GOP Congress Killed Civil Rights Program." . . . Mrs. Bertha Bauer of Illinois wearing three gold elephants in her hat . . . Governor and Mrs. Dewey strolling down Chestnut alone while the crowds clamor to see them at Dewey headquarters.

* * *

Seen in the lobbies—Alf Landon of Kansas, hero of 1936, wandering about, looking lonesome . . . Herbert Hoover looking older . . . Chief Spotted Crow of Pine Ridge, S. D., in full regalia taking three minutes to tell a radio audience in Sioux language: "I'm for Stassen. But I think Dewey win." . . . Democrats in windows throwing cigaret butts down on the inflated rubber elephant in front of the Bellevue-Stratford. (No wonder the elephant became deflated so often.) Taft rooters marching up to Stassen's neon-lit headquarters. Stassen rooters rushing out with banners to meet Taft forces head on . . . It couldn't happen anyplace but in America. What would Europe think? Gray-haired delegates, paunchy delegates, serious delegates, determined delegates—where else could you see women politicians on equal footing with men, the son of a former president of the United States rubbing shoulders with the son of a bootblack, the head of the Sun Oil company friendly with the head of the Carpenters' Union? It's democracy, an unusual brand perhaps, uniquely American, found no where else in the world . . . Sure it costs money, but it happens only once in four years . . . There's George Bender again singing: "We're looking over a four leaf clover." . . . He's almost hoarse now . . . There's Alice Longworth sporting a big Taft button. (She claims to keep him isolationist.) . . . And beauteous Mrs. Morris Cafritz, the lady who entertains so many Democrats, now vigorously applauding Governor Green as he blasts the Democrats . . . And Senator Ferguson of Michigan. He says Philadelphia is a vacation after staying up all night at Senate sessions.

* * *

Smoked-Filled Rooms.

OF COURSE there's one dilution in the democracy of these conventions. It takes such a buildup, such a publicity machine, so much money to be a candidate. The money poured into bands, uniforms, buttons and giveaways would make up the District of Columbia deficit . . . No longer can a good man walk into public life and become a candidate—merely because he's a good man. If so, one of the best men here, Governor Warren of California, would have been in. But Warren didn't have the advance buildup . . . The road to the presidency these days must be paved with glamor and money, to say nothing of horse trading in smoke-filled rooms . . . That's where the big blocks of delegates are auctioned off . . . It's a delegates', not a peoples' convention. And the top leaders don't hesitate to barter their big blocks of votes back and forth like so many shares of stock across the board of the Stock Exchange . . . It's a blemish on democracy, but before this convention is over part of the next cabinet may be picked.

* * *

Taxicab Politics.

ENTHUSIASTIC delegates, feverish delegates, tired delegates. Delegates packed in taxicabs reading the special convention edition of the "Taxi News," which featured Taft's, Dewey's and Vandenberg's views on taxi drivers. One item (unfortunately fiction) reported Senator Vandenberg having lost $5,000 in a cab and giving all of it to the honest driver who turned it in . . . Taft's Little Eva elephant got tired. Flown from Ohio on a cargo plane, she had to have a shot of adrenelin and finally went to an elephant stall in the University of Pennsylvania veterinary hospital. Politics, not the air trip was too tough . . . Ernest Arthur Vandenberg jr. trying to persuade his father to announce his position . . . Mrs. Dewey answering questions from ladies of the press: "What is your husband's favorite dish?" . . . "Mexican mackerel." . . . "Does your husband's mustache tickle?" . . . No answer . . . Mrs. Dewey might have answered: "A kiss without a mustache is like an egg without salt."

* * *

Great Show.

IT'S BEEN a great show. And staid old Philadelphia will have only one week to rest up before the Elks convention, after which come the Democrats, then Henry Wallace. Perhaps it's true—what they say—that the Quaker City really likes politicians and people.

Bands Engage In Duel

By KENNETH L. DIXON

PHILADELPHIA — One thing about this convention, you couldn't beat the bands—as far as dogged loyalty and stubborn perseverance was concerned.

Politicians might well change their minds and switch their allegiance overnight. The staunchest supporters might begin to lose faith, and even the most determined delegates would waver and fall by the wayside when the going got tough.

But, paid mercenaries though they might be, the boys who beat the drums and tooted the trumpets for the various hopefuls stayed by their men as long as there was strength and breath left in them.

And some of their feats will remain legendary long after everyone has forgotten who was also-running for the Republican nomination.

Take that Taft-Stassen musical feud, for instance.

To many it looked like a spontaneous thing, but there's no question that it all started one afternoon when things looked darkest for those two not-so-hopeful hopefuls. It was right after Pennsylvania's Ed Martin had bowed out in favor of Dewey, and the rumors were flying that the show was practically over.

Later it developed that most of the rumors were entirely untrue, but the very speed with which they were springing up was indicative in itself.

Then, just at the blackest moment—for all the world like the movie-version of the U. S. Marines—in through the Bellevue-Stratford lobby door marched the Taft band, headed by bouncy, bustling Angelo Vitale, its leader from Cleveland.

Round and round the jammed, sweaty crowd in the lobby they marched, thundering out the Taft theme song—"I'm Looking Over a Four-Leaf Clover," with slight variations in the words, of course.

At first there were kidding wisecracks about "whistling past a graveyard," and the like, but when the boys moved back out in front and started their impromptu concert on the sidewalk, the grinning crowd followed them out.

* * *

Opposition Appears.

THEY had hardly warmed up with "Boola boola" and a variety of college marches when suddenly there was a diversion. Up the sidewalk, straight for their positions came the Stassen band with Philadelphia leader Bernie Berle puling out all the stops on "We're for Stassen!"

Not ten feet from the Taft music-makers, they set up shop and the great musical duel was underway!

Rising to the challenge with a grin, Angelo swung his boys into the loudest possible version of "Four-Leaf Clover" and banner-bearers backing both bands beat time with their slogan standards like two companies of lancers.

Then the spectators began to take sides, joining in singing with one crowd or the other until the din was unbelievable.

But neither side would give or take a single break, and for forty-five solid minutes the battle royal thundered—and looked as though it might go on until one team or the other dropped from sheer exhaustion.

However, in the nick of time candidate Stassen arrived at the hotel, and in a burst of cheering his musicians followed him on inside. For a few defiant moments, the Taft band played on, and then it too subsided with weary sighs of relief.

Even Petrillo's wages can't buy that brand of allegiance!

Speaking of Your Health

Don't Neglect Nosebleed

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MOST of us think of nosebleed in connection with a childhood scuffle or a minor accident because these are the ways in which we ourselves have experienced it. But though nosebleed is usually a trivial condition, it can be serious.

The causes of nosebleed are many. They range from slight injuries to certain grave disorders of the blood such as hemophilia or leukemia.

Fortunately, these diseases are rare and most nosebleeds are due to much more trifling causes. In children, for instance, habit of picking the nose.

Enlarged adenoids also make for nosebleed and sometimes the infections of childhood, such as measles and chickenpox, are accompanied by bleeding from the nose.

Severe Nosebleed.

In older people severe nosebleed may be one of the first signs of cancer of the nose or nasal sinuses, or it may indicate the presence of tumors of other sorts. Those tumors, made up largely of blood vessels, are particularly prone to cause heavy bleeding.

The most common location of bleeding from the nose is the lower part of the septum. In most instances, it is easy to see the point from which the blood is coming, and, often, putting pressure on the area is sufficient to stop the bleeding. This pressure is applied by holding the whole of the soft part of the nose between the finger and thumb and keeping it firmly pressed together for at least five minutes.

When it is necessary to call a physician, he may apply a piece of cotton soaked in epinephrine to the area for fifteen minutes. This will stop the bleeding temporarily.

It also shrinks the lining membrane so that the small veins can be distinctly seen. Then the bleeding points can be burnt or cauterized with heat, chromic acid, or silver nitrate.

The patient should not lie down on his back while the nose is bleeding. If he does, the swallowed blood will cause him the additional discomfort of faintness and sickness of the stomach.

Timely Editorial

From the Home Garden.

Gardeners who have battled weeds, bugs and inconsiderate weather are beginning to reap the first fruits, or rather vegetables, of their toil. Onions, radishes, lettuce and such garden sass have been on for some time.

Now, the peas are prime for the picking, with green beans coming on to add new pleasures and excitement to eating. Tomatoes will be available in quantity within a short time to those gardeners who planted early. Then will come the crowning delicacy, sweet corn, which is summer's choicest gift to mortal man.

There are aching muscles, disappointments and grief connected with gardening. But, when the gardener sits down to the table to eat the fresh grown product of his soil, he forgets the buckets of sweat, the watery blisters, and the complaining ligaments which were the price. The food is made the sweeter by honest toil.—Ohio State Journal.

Farmer's Diary

An Enthusiastic Farmer

By CALVIN A. BYERS

I SAW a farmer who looked to be "on top of the world." He was disking, on a hill, with his heavy tractor at early morning. The dew of early June had dampened the field—a south wind blew from a large woodland. The air was rich with odors of mould, sassafras and wild bramble blooms.

His chubby red headed five-year-old son ran along behind his father's moving rig. His buxom wife stood in the kitchen door of the hillside farmhouse, waving to the boy. The sky above was cloudless deep soft blue. A meadowlark took wing and sang—a bobolink mounted, singing.

Where is the workingman who works among finer surrounding, or whose lot is cast in pleasanter places? Who does a job that is more important, more socially useful? This man helps to create the wealth that supports civilization, today, and the way he cares for his soil determines whether or not there will be a civilization tomorrow.

I wondered, watching him in his 20-acre field of corn, if he appreciated himself—I wondered if he heard and saw the natural beauties about him. I wondered if he delighted, as I did, in the sight of his family so eagerly helping him at his task.

His Jersey cattle graze on a lowland pasture. His hogs wallow contentedly in a swampy pool. The clover meadow is thick with bloom, and a flock of young chickens scatters about the brooderhouse. Nothing is hungry, or worried, or ugly to look upon. Peace is here, and real wealth and a child's joyous laughter.

"Fine morning," I greeted him.

He got off his machine and came over to me; with his broad hand outstretched. "Fine busy day," he agreed. "Weeds and kids like mine,"—here he towsled the little one's hair—"won't let a man rest. They grow while his back is turned."

The man's genial good humor animated his stocky body and lighted his fine eyes. We talked for a half hour, and I went away satisfied. This farmer was intelligent, thorough, and full of ambitious plans for his community. He farmed enthusiastically, and was trying some new experiments. His was a living farm, managed by a growing mind. The country is fairly safe in such men's hands.

Children Kidnaped, Say Greeks

Claim 10,000 Have Been Taken

LONDON —(AP)— At least 10,000 Greek children have been taken from their rebellion torn homeland into Russia's Balkan satellite countries.

The Greek government charges they have been kidnaped.

Britain's Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, addressing his Labor party colleagues, spoke of Greek children being "abducted," but offered no estimate of their numbers.

A special investigating committee from the United Nations reported earlier that many children "are being forcibly as well as willingly removed from their homes in Greece."

The committee's report cautiously stated that "a part of them are being collected in certain countries to the north of Greece."

Guerrilla Leader Markos Vafiades sent a note to Secretary General Trygve Lie of the United Nations, admitting "a transport of 10,000 children was sent to democratic countries" — meaning mainly Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria.

Markos, and Yugoslav leaders, have claimed that the children came willingly to escape the horrors of Greece's mountain warfare, which has made an estimated half million homeless.

REPORTS PLOT

Several weeks ago the Greek government said Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria were plotting with Markos, the guerrilla leader, to kidnap 60,000 Greek children and carry them off for education as communists.

The government called the reported plot the "most alarming and unprecedented guerrilla activity" in the two-year-old war.

The rebel radio reported about the same time that the three communist nations were offering "hospatility" to 60,000 of the children.

The Greek government ordered all children evacuated from areas where guerrilla raids were taking place, or were threatened. More than 10,000 have been taken to safety, but their removal added to the government's already heavy burden of caring for a half million other refugees.

The Czechoslovak - Greek Friendshrip society in Prague disclosed that 2,000 Greek children are being cared for in Czechoslovakia, with the approval of the country's communist government. The society said all the children in its care came from guerrilla - occupied areas and that they would be returned to Greece when peace comes.

In Yugoslavia, Associated Press Correspondent Osgood Caruthers visited a camp where 240 child refugees were staying. He reported that all the youngsters said they came voluntarily. They were being fed and clothed and were going to school in classrooms hung with pictures of Communist Leader Marshal Tito.

Markos' note to Lie denied the children were abducted.

"Mothers in the liberated regions," the rebel leader said, "could not see their children starving and living in danger of being killed by bombs."

The children were taken away, he said, "not only by consent of parents but at their initiative."

Books For Children of All Ages Offered Now at Library

Books for children of all ages are being offered this week. Every boy and girl knows how much fun it is to go fishing with Dad. JERRY GOES FISHING by Florence Battle is a book for the younger children telling of the experiences Jerry had on the fishing trip with his father and two friends, Billy and Dick.

THE RED CARPET by Rex Parkin is a story about a red hotel carpet that ran away to meet the Duke of Sultana. Every one was amazed when the carpet kept on running down the road but only the carpet really knew why he was running away.

If you are in the fifth or sixth grade and enjoy reading a good family story you will like TEN BEAVER ROAD by Isabel McLelland. The five members of the McTavish family, Mr. McTavish, Mrs. McTavish, Christina, Jonathan, and Wee Jean came from Scotland to make their home in America. The amusing incidents that occur upon the journey only add to the excitement of a new home.

The children had some fear had been stolen. The trick used has been stolen. The trick used by Jonathan on his first day at school to get rid of his schoolbag will make you laugh. Why did Wee Jean leave her coat outside the house on the sign, for several days? These are only a few of the incidents of the McTavish family. I'm sure you will enjoy reading the book to discover what else happens to this interesting Scotch family.

You older children will enjoy reading VULPES THE RED FOX by John and Jean George. It is a story of the exciting life of a fox in Maryland. Vulpes enjoyed the chase, especially when the Red Bone was after him. The friendship between the fox and the dog is a strange one, and the book is just what you people who enjoy animal stories will want to read.

What boy or girl does not enjoy a good mystery story? Who hid the packages in the car the four young people were vacationing in? What did the packages contain? Slim, Roger, Bill and the Diego really had a good time preparing a meal for all of Diego's relatives, but would you be able to do it as they did? THE RIDDLE OF THE HIDDEN PESOS by Samuel Epstein is bound to keep your interest until the last word has been read.

Marjorie Young to Become Bride Of Jack Baker In Church Rite

MR. AND MRS. R. M. YOUNG, 399 Sherman place, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marjorie Jane, to Jack R. Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Baker, of 700 Park avenue east. Twenty close friends and relatives of the couple were informed of the wedding when the bride's mother entertained in her honor.

Four aunts of the bride, Mrs. C. D. Stone, Mrs. C. K. Dye, Mrs. C. G. Knarr and Miss Marjorie High were associate hostesses. The guests were given lapel vases containing roses as favors, and the guest of honor was presented with a corsage of pink carnations. Cards were the diversion of the evening and prizes won by Mrs. Wendel Smith, the Misses Marilyn Massa, Marilyn Hughes and Ruth Ann Bush, were presented to the guest of honor.

The guests were invited to the dining room where lunch was served. The table was attractively decorated in pink roses and candles, and varied colored balloons, which when broken revealed the date of the marirage as July 17 at 1:30 p. m. in the afternoon before the altar of the First Lutheran church with the Rev. Voice of Broadway

SPEAKING FOR MYSELF

One sure sign that normalcy is returning, slowly but inevitably, is the recurrence in the news columns of items about those wacky contests in which Industry doffs its hat to Beauty while the flash bulbs pop all around.

I mean, for example, such contests as one in which the members of the Passion Fruit Growers' association of Lower Sunspot, Texas, meet in solemn conclave and select a beautiful starlet, model or just plain peasant to be crowned "Miss Passion Fruit of 1948." The lucky winner is immediately draped in a costume consisting of a crown from the Brooks Costume company, a sceptre from hunger and six strategically arranged passion fruits. Her teeth, along with almost everything else, are bared for the camera, she is photographed and nationally publicized, and for a few glorious days the world is her oyster—or passion-fruit, if you want to be consistent.

Frequently, the beauty-conscious businessmen have a little trouble deciding on a queen, so they call in outside help in the form of newspaper columnists. The fact that this maneuver occasionally results in a bit of extra publicity doesn't bother the moguls at all. Well, I'm a busy girl, and it may very well be that the next time I'm asked to help select a queen to represent an industry, I may be tied up with deadlines or interviews or fancy work. So I've decided to do my selecting in advance this year, and hold my selections in abeyance until I'm asked.

For the Apple Queen, I pick Ingrid Bergman, whose cheeks are as constantly and naturally rosy as the outside of a Washington State Delicious—an apt adjective, incidentally, for Ingrid herself. To the palpitating banana growers of this continent and its southerly neighbor, I suggest Le Directoire's Kay Thompson. Kay is long, lean and banana blonde, and I doubt if she should be kept in the refrigerator, either.

Miss Deep Dish Pie of 1948 should be Lana Turner, for my money, because she displayed such crust in handling the British press. My Cotton Queen nomination is Susan Reed, of the folk songs and the shocking pink hair. She usually wears cotton dresses, and looks so right in them that she's constantly being pursued by a long line of human boll-weevils. Certainly the title of Miss Egg belongs to Academy Award winner Bette Davis, who laid such a large one in "Winter Meeting."

My nomination for Miss Seafood of this or any other year is Beatrice Lillie, mainly because she fills out a mermaid costume so wittily in "Inside U. S. A."—but Esther Williams is close competition. Miss Wheat should be languid, wheat-haired Lizabeth Scott, and Miss Rye could be any number of young ladies famous in cafe society but nameless here.

I guess that will do for the time being, but if any random growers or manufacturers need assistance in choosing a queen, I wish they'd buzz me while I'm in the mood. As Mr. Plastic Surgery of the Twentieth Century, otherwise known as J. Durante, say so frequently, "I got a million of 'em!"

Nicknames are sometimes apt thumbnail sketches of the personages who bear them, but sometimes they are caricatures. It would be hard, for instance, to imagine anyone less infantile than the burly, he-masculine baseball immortal, "Babe" Ruth, and anyone less toots-like than that redoubtable restaurateur, the mighty "Toots" Shor. . . . "Tiny" Ruffner is a mass of man. Cafe impresario Julius Monk, a super-suave city slicker if there ever was one, is called 'Rube," of all things. The nickname was suggested by his long association with Le Ruban Bleu supper clubs, both here and in France. As Julius says, the nickname situation could have been worse. At least he escaped "Monky!"

Early colonists brought herbs with them when they migrated from Europe.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, July 3.

WHILE there are signs of much stirring-about and excitement with the energies, faculties and impulses under stress and tension, yet there may be much to contend with in the way of delays, limitations and probably postponements. Disappointments, obstacles, congestions, are in sight, with probable unforeseen outlay, loss or extravagance due to tricky or bewildering circumstances. An attitude of patience and serenity might compose disturbing situations rather than a wild and irritable "flying off the handle."

Those whose birthday it is, may encounter a year to challenge their ideas of discipline and good sense, since there are indications of conflicting and trying disturbances. While matters are keyed to definite and constructive attack, with the energies and faculties stimulated to movement and aggressive action, yet there are equally as forceful and tenacious obstacles, impediments and conflicts to negotiate, and which make for delays, disappointments and various forms of frustration and cross purposes. Forcing the issues seems important, therefore the wisest course may be resignation, patience, serenity and studied composture.

A child born on this day may have many conflicts of character, with dominant drives for strenuous action and constructive purpose, yet it may encounter frustration, impediment, perhaps inherent inertia or lack of urges.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

They let the Wives in!

The ex-GI's of our town entertained their wives the other night at one of their "feeds" of hamburger sandwiches and ice cold beer. (The girls had hinted that they'd like to see what went on when their husbands got together!)

Being wary, the boys provided chicken sandwiches and cake and cider—for those wives who might have other tastes. But though they were grateful for the choice, most of the wives agreed that hamburger sandwiches and beer were a mighty pleasant combination.

After the "feed" the husbands took their wives on at a game of darts, and later they played "Indications." The party broke up around ten, with the boys agreeing that it was mighty successful.

From where I sit, it's this companionship among young couples today, and their moderation in a sensible beverage like beer, that's won the younger generation such a wholesome reputation.

Enlistment Quota Fixed

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The brakes today were put on National Guard enlistments to beat the draft.

Maj. Gen. Kenneth F. Cramer said a Guard quota was dispatched yesterday to National Guard adjutants general in each state which must not be exceeded if the Guard is to stay within its budget.

Those adjutants general who go beyond their quotas will do so on their own responsibility, Cramer said.

The National Guard strength is budgeted at 341,000 for fiscal '49. Reports reached Washington, however, that many adjutants general were exceeding their state quotas in the belief that Congress will grant a deficiency appropriation when it reconvenes.

This action, however, does not have the sanction of the National Guard Bureau of which Cramer is chief.

Cramer's instructions to the states said:

"In order to keep the aggregate strength of the whole National Guard within available funds, it is necessary to set a ceiling for the strength in each state.

"As the National Guard develops during the next few months it may be necessary to change the ceilings."

The order did not apply to the Air National Guard. Instructions for the Air Guard will be announced later.

Meanwhile, administration officials said the first draft call will take in single men without dependents in non-essential jobs.

Herb gardens were planted within the cloistered walls of European monasteries during the Renaissance, and the products used to treat ailing people.

Good Men Emerge From Jumble Of National Party Conventions

PHILADELPHIA—Amid the strange clamor of county fair pageantry and shameless forensics, the lean and hungry Republicans pressed to bitter agreement on the fellow who is to turn the rascals out and lead the disillusioned people back to that beautiful opium dream of luxury and ease and joy.

There were some English correspondents snooping here, nasty boors, who are taken in on passes to our most sensitive political rites and then sat down to mock us at so many pence a word, payable—the irony of it—out of the sweat of those who toil to pay the taxes to be lent to Britain.

They guyed the juvenile quality of the keynote speech and yet marvelled at the miracle of power, good luck and clumsy skill that somehow brings the Americans prosperity and victory out of such sordid profanations of the beautiful theory of popular government.

They are wistful about their taunting because, while the tawdry American fete that comes one year in four combines the measliest coconut-shy of bank holiday at Blackpool with the carnival aspects of derby day at Epsom, nevertheless, in November it always elects a man to king it over the mightiest swashbuckler on earth. The last one we really did elect served for life and actually ruled, as his consort frankly put it, longer than most kings on the dark continent of Europe. The next one will have, by conventional rule, eight years. There are those who, with respect to the unbridled acumen of the Roosevelts in office, would pass a law to make the winner submit to search and inventory when they step down.

But, such trifles aside he will spring brave and beautiful out of this sticky mess to take the place of Mr. Truman. The English have a better knack for mummery and they cart through the streets their only slightly off-holy royal relics, their crowns and sparkling ballbats, dusted with diamonds like a cutlet with crumbs. But out of it all they get no better than they send in, whereas the Americans pick a hick from a hog-wallow with a repertoire of dirty stories and get an emancipator. Or a drooling slob from behind a barn to succeed a competent rascal and the rascal outlives the peril by just four months.

The candidates before the convention were mere men. A country choir-boy who earned a nonsectarian dollar chirping in a synagogue in his green-horn days in New York. A small town publisher. A sedate son of a mild and harmless President, trained for office, public life and public responsibility but afflicted with a wise and probably fatal contempt for the wisdom of the fool with a vote.

And so they ran. And yet, upon election, the President will be assumed into a super-human state, guarded, gilded with majesty and protected from back-talk at his press conferences. The British can't do that so they have had their poor puppet desperately polishing apples and kissing babies to change their luck.

City Asks New Bids on Fire Station

Offers on No. 4 House To Be Opened July 13

The city has readvertised for bids to construct a new No. 4 fire station at 411 Newman street. They will be opened on July 13.

Bids were received last year, but the lowest combination of offers totaled $71,995 which was double the estimate. There is now $50,000 in a special No. 4 fire station fund in the city treasury.

Meanwhile, workmen are putting the finishing touches on the No. 5 fire station on Marion avenue and work should be completed by the end of next month, at the latest. The building is being erected at a cost of $52,093.

Plans to build the new No. 4 station were side tracked last December by council which decided it was more important to build a new station and increase the city's fire protection than to rebuild the No. 4 station which is in bad condition.

If price trends continue, the new bids will probably equal and perhaps surpass the previous No. 4 station bids, city spokesmen said. This would mean council would have to appropriate more money to complete the firehouse.

1,000 Attend Two Picnics

Approximately 1,000 Mansfield picnickers had a lot of fun polishing off those double helpings last night — despite the dinner-time rain.

They included the nearly 500 Elks members who jammed GBU park for the annual outing and another 500 who attended Prospect park's lawn fete.

The Elks picnic had the earlier party of the two events with the crowd showing up about 2:30 p. m. The rain chased the men into the shelter house for a time.

Food was prepared under the direction of Ed Sutter and the men consumed 180 pounds of steak, 300 pounds of potatoes, a barrel of cabbage, 100 cans of corn, 200 loaves of bread and six, three-by-four-foot cakes.

Twenty-five dollar attendance award prizes went to Bill (Kaiser) Roth, Harry Hollingsworth, Byron Snyder and Bob Glasener.

Prospect park families congregated for an evening of good food and entertainment. The rain canceled a scheduled ball game but failed to halt the pony rides and fish pond for the children.

The adults retired to games in the pavilion after a dinner of 200 pounds of meat, scores of potato and baked bean servings, 50 cakes, numerous pies, pop corn and ice cream.

TOKENS OF ESTEEM—Dr. and Mrs. Fonkalsrud admire their gifts from hospital staff.

Hospital Associates Honor Fonkalsrud

By NITA BRANSON

Dr. A. O. Fonkalsrud, superintendent of General hospital, has met and conquered many a difficult situation during his 17-year regime but for a few moments yesterday afternoon, he was distinctly nonplused.

The occasion was a farewell reception and tea given for Dr. Fonkalsrud at the Nurses home by about 200 employes.

When Miss Carrie Beal, supervisor of nurses, stepped up and presented Dr. Fonkalsrud with a handsome three-suiter piece of luggage as a farwell token, he lost for a second or two his customary poise. Then he spoke sincerely and "from my heart."

"There always comes a time in a man's life when nature imposes the need for retirement. The time has come in my career for me to do more the things I want to do.

'DO AS I PLEASE'

"As I told someone the other day. I'm going to do as I please for the first time in many years. The greater part of my life—it will be 49 years next October—I've been working for others.

"I regret having to leave you. A man can't work with a hospital for 17 years and not have it a part of his life. Leaving it and all of you is like tearing to pieces my work.

"But I bespeak for my successor the same fine cooperation you have given me. Mrs. Fonkalsrud and I have no definite plans. We hope to continue making our home here for some time. I thank you with all my heart."

SILVER TRAY AS GIFT

Then Dr. Max Brown, chief of staff at the hospital, presented to the Fonkalsruds a handsome Sheffield silver tray.

The two gifts were a little too much. Mrs. Fonkalsrud could scarcely express her thanks.

During the several afternoon hours, as employes came and went in groups from the hospital, refreshments were served in the spacious flower-filled living room of the Nurses' home.

Dr. Fonkalsrud leaves the hospital June 30. Wayne A. Copeland of Warsaw, N. Y., takes over the post on July 1.

Auto Hits Pedestrian

Mrs. Ruth Oglesbee, 42, of 48 Helen avenue, suffered a pelvic fracture early Thursday evening when she was struck by a car while crossing U. S. Route 30 in East Mansfield.

State highway patrolmen said Mrs. Oglesbee had parked her car on the north side of the highway and alighted to cross the highway to a grocery when a car driven by Mrs. Janice Loerch of Tetamah, Neb., came over the hill at People's hospital and struck Mrs. Oglesbee.

Mrs. Oglesbee was reported in good condition today in General hospital.

Patrolmen said Mrs. Loerch and her husband, Russell B. Loerch, a passenger in the car, were en route to Niagara Falls on their honeymoon. The mishap occurred at 6:20 p. m.

Questioned In Freight Thefts

A north-side Mansfield man was held in county jail today pending further investigation of thefts of freight and equipment from the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

Sheriff's deputies, now holding the stolen articles, said the goods included dishes and silverware from a railroad camp car at Toledo Junction, and electric stove equipment billed to the Westinghouse company and taken from a box car in the Pennsylvania yards.

The theft, deputies said, was believed to have occurred Monday.

Traffic Data Due Tuesday

Vurnon Johnson, Cleveland's traffic engineer, will make a report on Mansfield's downtown traffic problem at a meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m., in the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce.

Prior to the meeting, the traffic committee of the C. of C., city officials and members of the state highway patrol will hold a dinner meeting at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

At that time Barney O'Donnell and William J. Knight of the state highway department will award the city a plaque for reporting the best traffic safety record in 1947 in Ohio towns in the 25,000 and 50,000 population class.

Johnson's survey was made several months ago at the request of the Chamber of Commerce. His report will be studied along with the one of Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals. Chamber officials said they would back the traffic control program as developed from a combination of Boals's and Johnson's reports.

Death Takes Mrs. Shivley

Mrs. Kathryn Eva Shivley, 81, widow of William H. Shivley, died Thursday afternoon at the People's hospital following an illness of 13 weeks.

Born in Upper Sandusky, July 3, 1866, Mrs. Shively resided in Mansfield for 45 years, returning to Upper Sandusky several years ago. She was a member of the Evangelical and Reformed church there.

Surviving are one son, Oliver F. Shivley of Mansfield; two daughters, Mrs. Clara Davey of Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Helen Maier of Mansfield; six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren; six sisters and two brothers, all of Upper Sandusky.

The body was removed to the Wappner funeral home where services will be held Saturday at 3 p. m., in charge of her pastr, Rev. Hugo C. Kellemyer of Upper Sandusky. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

NEED LIFE-SAVER—

Members of Girl Scout Troop No. 28 will be forced to cancel their planned trip to Old Homestead beach at Huron if they can't find someone with a lifesaving certificate to accompany them. Girl Scout regulations say the girls must have a lifesaver along, but they have hunted in vain for someone with the necessary qualifications. Miss Ruth Carnahan, troop leader, said that the troop can't offer any salary, but it will pay all expenses for the one-week vacation. The girls are scheduled to leave Mansfield Monday afternoon. If you know where they can get a lifesaver, call Miss Carnahan at 2271-6 before 6 p. m. or at 1656-1 after that hour.

Sam Them, former Mansfield resident, and son of the late John any Mary Them, has won his retirement at the W H. Block company department store of Indianapolis, Ind., according to word received by relatives here. Them became a member of the 25-year club at the company last November. He retired last month to spend his time gardening, fishing and attending baseball games. Them is a brother of William and Henry Them of Mansfield and a cousin of Louis Them of The News-Journal advertising staff.

THE PLACE WAS JUMPING—

Things were jumping in the mayor's office this morning. In fact, things were jumping all night. Al Strachan, garbage superintendent, caught a big bullfrog and presented it, encased in a bottle, to the mayor yesterday afternoon. During the night, the google-eyed monster broke out of his glass prison and started hoping around the executive quarters. This morning, the bouncer was seated complacently on the window sill, looking out at the early morning passers-by. The mayor cornered the frog, who was named "King Tut," and put him in more natural surroundings at the Central park fountain.

Wanted In Indiana On Forgery Charge

George J. Elkins, Mansfield, R. D. 6, was arrested by Mansfield police yesterday on a Fort Wayne, Ind., warrant charging forgery. Police said Elkins waived extradition and that he is being held in city jail pending arrival of Indiana authorities.

Session Set For Monday

Council Group, Residents Confer

City council's street committee and northside residents will meet Monday at 7:30 p. m. to discuss the proposed passenger and vehicular tunnel under the B. & O. and Erie railroad tracks between Lawnsdale avenue and North Lake park.

The meeting will be held at the home of Marion Sackman, 593 McPherson street, who is one of the promoters of the proposal.

More than 225 north siders recently submitted a petition to council asking that the tunnel be constructed.

Sackman told the councilmen at that time that a 30-foot right-of-way from Lawnsdale avenue to the north edge of the railroad tracks had already been secured and would be presented free-of-charge to the city if the construction proposal materializes.

COST INDEFINITE

An accurate estimate of the cost of the tunnel has not been made, but Sackman has quoted an engineer friend who set the price at approximately $200,000.

Proponents of the underpass proposal argue that it is needed because there is no crossing over the railroad right-of-way between Bowman street and Trimble road, and that traffic bottlenecks are created at the two points.

And, as pointed out in The News-Journal several months ago, northside Senior high school students cross the unprotected railroad tracks at the site of the proposed underpass, rather than detour three-quarters of a mile out of their way to cross at a protected point. During the school season, they risk their lives when crossing the tracks.

The idea of creating a safe railroad crossing linking the north and southwest portions of the cities has been discussed for the past 25 years. Excessive cost has stymied the proposal.

County GOP Likes Dewey

Mansfield Republicans, Democrats, labor leaders and industrialists today had varied opinions on the nomination of New York's Governor Thomas E. Dewey as Republican candidate for president.

Ralph Hardy, GOP executive chairman, voiced the general opinion of Richland county Republicans by saying, "We're for Dewey 100 per cent. He'll make a darn good candidate; there's no question about that."

Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch replied, "I'm a Republican and will go along 100 per cent. I don't think any of the first five prospective nominees would have been a mistake. Although Dewey is not my first choice. I think he's still a good man."

William Bell, president of Delano Lodge, steelworkers' CIO union, had the following comment: "Well, I don't have too much opinion on the subject. I think Dewey is the most capable man they have. If we're going to have a Rejublican president, I prefer Dewey to Taft."

The question brought a chuckle to George C. Balliet, secretary and assistant treasurer of the Richland Trust company and former chairman of the Richland county election board. "It's all right with me," he said. "There's got to be somebody running on the other ticket."

George L. Draffan, president of the Ohio Brass company, thought the selection was "fine." "I'm a strong Taft supporter," he said, "but I have confidence in his judgment of swinging his support to Dewey."

Girl Scouts Conclude Camp Session With Parents' Party

The first session of Girl Scout day camp closes this afternoon at Camp Niniwan. Ninety intermediate Scouts who attended the 4-day session will be given a treat of ice cream bars. Next Tuesday the Brownies take over the camp for the second four-day session.

Last night the girls entertained their parents and friends with a campfire program from 7 to 9 p. m. at the camp. More than 50 parents attended the program.

The campers divided into six units to present songs, skits, and pantomimes around the big camp fire. Unit 2, with Mrs. Charles W. Birdsong and Mrs. Walter McEvoy as counselors, sang "Weather the Weather" and "We're Sailors" with appropriate gestures.

Unit 3, under the direction of Counselors Mrs. Scott Brown and Mrs. W. H. Marshall, sang "White Coral Bells." "She'll Be Coming Round the Mountain" was the skit presented by Unit 4, whose counselor is Mrs. Philip Lodge.

Unit 6, with Mrs. Forrest Pittinger and Mrs. C. F. Brickley as counselors, pantomimed a "cookout." The last group to perform was Unit 7, with Mrs. H. F. Plaut and Mrs. L. W. Bailey as counselors. They challenged the parents to visit their tent site on Sassafras Hill. Adults who successfully completed the trip were awarded prizes of locust carcasses.

Adults who received the prizes were Mr. and Mrs. Harold George, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Pankow, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wenning, K. D. Jones, Mrs. Mark McEvoy, and Mrs. Plaut.

Unit 5 whose counselors are Mrs. Chester Wharton and Mrs. George Bennett did not present a skit.

The program closed with songs led by Miss Margaret Rooney, camp director; the "friendship circle;" and "taps."

That night Units 1, 2, and 4 camped out. Wednesday night Unit 3 camped out.

Nine camperships were provided for girls by the American Association of University Women.

New York Homers Beat Feller and Tribe, 4-0

Corum's Column

By BILL CORUM

NEW YORK — (INS) — Have you heard my new song written and dedicated to the two Joes—Louis and Walcott?

It's a nice little number called, "Some Day I'll Find You."

★

If they don't get this fight out of the way pretty soon, Walcott will be the first grandfather that ever fought for the title.

★

Only two customers, a boy and a girl, occupied ringside seats while Mike Jacobs, Sol Strauss and Tom Gallery weighed the decision of a second postponement.

The two intrepid customers had rigged up a shelter of raincoats and, apparently, intended to stay right where they were until the fight started.

Finally, some kind soul sloshed out through the mud and water to tell them that the fight had been postponed.

"The rain," explained the kind soul.

"Goodness me," said the young lady, "we hadn't noticed it."

★

Joe Louis sat outside this office entrance in a little car for half an hour, well aware that the fight was off before the gentlemen in charge got around to announcing it.

We drove up alongside his car in a taxi and caught his attention by banging on the window.

"How's your backstroke?" we hollered over to him.

Louis grinned and yelled back: "This is bad, ain't it? We can't fight in this. What they waiting for, the ark?"

★

Later the champion crawled out of his car to go to his dressing room, to be followed a couple of minutes later by Walcott.

"Jersey Joe" seemed equally carefree and in equally good humor.

They're both good Joes really, for all their pretended animostiy toward each other. Or perhaps it isn't pretended.

In any event, we thought something of going down and trying to start a gin-rummy game between them while they waited. But decided against it. Who'd pay $900,000 to see 'em play gin-rummy?

Yanks Say Bob's Still Tough Man

CLEVELAND — (INS) — For a pitcher who has just lost his eighth game and had three of his choicest pitches blasted for home runs, it's hard to believe that Bob Feller still "has good stuff."

However, such is the case with the Cleveland Indians' fireballer, according to the New York Yankees.

The Bronx Bombers unanimously agreed that Feller had plenty of speed yesterday, including George McQuinn, Johnny Lindell and Joe DiMaggio, all of whom connected for the circuit to lead the Yanks to a 4-0 shutout over the Tribe.

By virtue of the victory, the Gotham city sluggers moved to within one and a half games of the league-leading Tribe, the most challenging position they have enjoyed since the opening of the 1948 campaign.

FASTER THAN EVER

Feller, who appeared to be faster than at any other time this season, struck out eight, walked only two and permitted just five hits.

Any one of the Yankee home runs would have been enough to cop the victory behind the superb pitching of Vic Raschi. The big righthander, who now has nine wins and only one loss, allowed only six hits, two of them in the last of the ninth.

Only in the fourth inning when a single by Manager Lou Boudreau and walks to Hank Edwards and Eddie Robinson filled the bases did the 19,231 fans have anything to cheer about.

However, the Yankee ace got out of that hole by fanning Joe Gordon and Ken Keltner and forcing Jim Hegan to pop an easy foul to McQuinn.

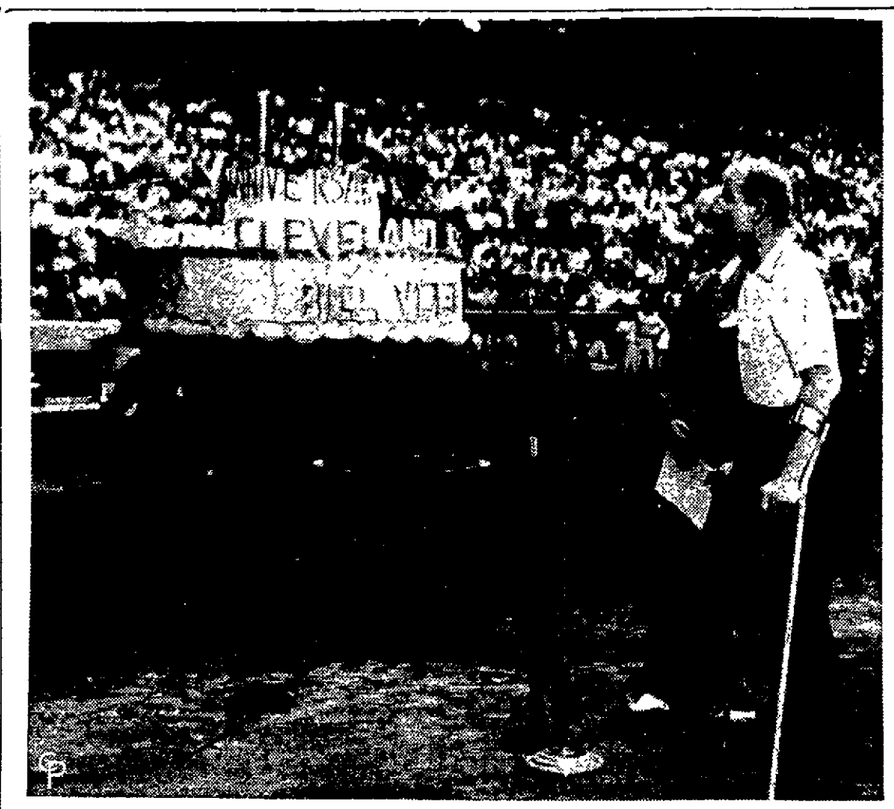
GET FOUR HITS

Boudreau and Robinson collected four of the Tribe's six bingles, while Edwards and Feller accounted for the other two.

Now that the Yankees have left town, the Indians will attempt to get back on the victory trail tonight with the Washington Nationals as the intended victims.

Bob Lemon, who has a record of 10 victories and five defeats, will go to the mound for the Tribe and will be opposed by Early Wynn.

Bob Muncrief will hurl tomorrow's game with Gene Bearden and Sam Zoldak slated to take the mound in Sunday's twin bill.



HAPPY ANNIVERSARY—Bill Veeck thanks the crowd which came out 65,000 strong Wednesday to help him celebrate the second anniversary of his becoming president of the Cleveland Indians—and to see the Tribe play the New York Yankees. Scene is Cleveland stadium. The giant "birthday cake" (background) was one of the features of the pre-game party. The Yanks spoiled things by winning, 5 to 1.

Last Place Tiffin Host To Gorman-Rupp Tonight

Mansfield Gorman-Rupp will attempt to get a tighter stranglehold on the North Central Ohio Inter-City Softball league lead tonight when it invades Tiffin for a game with the cellar-dwellers.

Undefeated in seven league starts, Gorman-Rupp holds a one-game lead over the fast travelling Marion team which has already won two games this week. Marion has won six and lost two. Gorman-Rupp has won six and tied one.

Bobby Regula, Gorman-Rupp's ace who pitched a no-hit game Monday against Willard, will likely be Manager Nick Weber's mound choice tonight. Regula has won five games without defeat.

Marion's latest victory was a 4-1 conquest over the faltering Ashland Indians Wednesday.

Gorman-Rupp has won 11 games and lost three over the season, having dropped three non-league tilts to the Ashland Indians, Wooster Lumber and the Sandusky Italian-Americans.

One game was played in the Junior league, Carpenter Busses defeating the Marine Corps league, 10-6. Pfahler had a perfect day with three hits for Carpenter while Eichinger got three for the Marines.

Farm Tools Seek 19th Victory Today

Farm Tools, which boasts the best record of any softball team in the city, will go after its 19th victory in 21 starts on the Farm Tool diamond today.

Pollock's Steel of Marion, one of the better teams in that city, is booked to meet the Toolmen at 6 p. m. A game at Ashland VFW next Tuesday also has been scheduled.

PITCHING—Vic Raschi, Yankees—Shut out the Cleveland Indians, 4-0 on six hits to gain his ninth straight victory.

Ballots of Softball Fans To Pick Teams

Mansfield softball fans will again have the opportunity to choose all-star teams which will compete in the annual amateur week.

Balloting for the "star" teams will begin the second week in July with amateur week beginning Aug. 2. The News-Journal will carry ballots for the convenience of Mansfield's many softball fans.

Fans will pick five outfielders, six infielders, two catchers and three pitchers. Proceeds of the amateur week will go into a fund to purchase trophies for the championship teams in Mansfield's six softball leagues and individual awards for members of the winning aggregations.

All games during amateur week will be played under the lights at the Gorman-Rupp field. Plans, which were completed last night, call for five softball and one baseball game during the week.

The baseball game will be between two all-star teams from the Elementary league of Mansfield's junior baseball program. The Elementary league all-stars will be chosen by a vote of players competing in the loop.

The Elementary lads will play a five-inning preliminary to the Class "A" title game Friday, Aug. 6.

Mansfield's three Class A leagues — Independent, Industrial and Club—will feature the program. Two of the teams will play each other Monday, Aug. 2, with the team drawing a bye scheduled to play outside competition Tuesday.

The Monday victor will play the third team for the title Friday.

Wednesday's contest will pit the Park league all-stars against the Church loop stars. A girls' game will be played Thursday.

★

The Mansfield softball commission last night decided to play several league games under the lights at the G-R field. The games will be coordinated with the Gorman-Rupp schedule.

★

Gorman-Rupp officials have made their field available to any Mansfield softball team for a nominal fee. The field can be booked when the G-R team and the league softball teams do not have it scheduled.

Managers may contact Nick Weber at Gorman-Rupp.

Dancer, Foster Team Wins Honors

Don Dancer and Sally Foster won bowling honors in the Thursday Mixed league at the Colony alleys last night as they turned in games of 338-291-340—969.

William Lambright did the best individual job of the night as he fired a 277 single game and a 559 series. He paced his partner, Margaret Ritchie, to the best team single game score—a 367.

Club League Ball Games Scheduled

Two games—and possibly three—will be played in the Class A Club softball game starting at 6 p. m. today.

The feature attraction between Veterans of Foreign Wars and Moose lodge was still on the fence at press time today. The teams yesterday agreed on a postponement of the important clash but recreation department officials were trying this morning to get the game reset for tonight at Prospect park.

Moose and VFW are tied with AVC for the league lead with four wins in five games.

The Moose team had asked for a postponement because several members of the team were on vacation. However, if "rec" officials find that Moose can find a team from its 15 player roster the game will be played.

AVC battles Amvets at Liberty park and Sons of Herman meets American Legion Post 16 at Johns park.

All games in the Church league were postponed last night by a heavy downpour which started just as the teams were taking the field.

Game Set Tomorrow

Madison and Bellville will play their postponed County league baseball game at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at Blue Goose diamond. The game, a part of the Hot Stove league program, was rained out yesterday.

Cloud Cast On Indian Outlook

By RALPH RODEN
(AP Sports Writer)

Are the Cleveland Indians ready to be scalped?

Manager Lou Boudreau's American league pace-setters have lost their first crucial series of the year and Bob Feller shows no signs of returning to the form that made him one of the greatest pitchers in baseball. These two factors have cast a cloud over a once rosy outlook.

"This is the year" shouted Cleveland fans when the Tribe opened the season by tearing off six straight triumphs. Their belief that the Indians would win their first pennant since 1920 grew stronger as the Tribe opened up a comfortable lead.

Today, however, they are not so sure. Only a game-and-a-half separates the Indians from the pursuing world champion New York Yankees.

LOSE EIGHT OF 12

The Yanks came into Cleveland Monday night three and a half games off the pace. They knocked off southpaw ace Gene Bearden, lost a 5-2 game to Sam Zoldak Tuesday, beat Don Black in 11 innings Wednesday and yesterday thrashed Feller 4-0. Cleveland now has lost eight out of its last 12 starts.

Bob Feller gave up only five hits, but three of them were home run clouts by George McQuinn, Johnny Lindell and Joe DiMaggio. DiMaggio's poke was his 17th of the season.

Philadelphia's third place Athletics pulled to within two games of the Indians by nosing out the Browns, 6-5, in a night game at St. Louis.

A four-run eighth inning rally, highlighted by Ferris Fain's triple and Barney McCosky's two-bagger enabled the A's to win. The Browns culled only three hits off three Athletic pitchers but 13 bases on balls kept them in the game.

The up and coming Boston Red Sox divided a double-header with the White Sox in Chicago, winning the second game, 8-5, after Bill Wight pitched the White Sox to a 3-1 victory in the opener.

Ted Williams smashed his 14th and 15th homers of the year and drove in four runs to spark the Red Sox's nightcap triumph. The Red Sox slugger also boosted his league-leading batting mark from .413 to .417.

The St. Louis Cardinals stormed to within a half game of the first place Boston Braves in the National league pennant race by trouncing the Braves, 11-2, in a night game at Boston.

The Brooklyn Dodgers dumped the Pittsburgh Pirates twice, 6-2 and 8-6 at Brooklyn. The second game was halted after the Pirates' half of the eighth inning because of darkness. The twin setbacks dropped the Pirates from second to third place and moved the Dodgers from sixth to fifth.

At New York the Chicago Cubs and the Giants divided a twin bill, the Giants winning the first game, 3-2, and the Cubs the second, 11-2.

A scheduled day game between Washington and Detroit and a night game between Cincinnati and Philadelphia were postponed because of rain.

New Leaders In Ball Poll

CHICAGO — (AP) — New leaders turned up at two positions today in the nationwide all-star baseball poll to select the starting lineups for the 15th annual interleague game at St. Louis July 13.

Frank Gustine of the Pittsburgh Pirates moved in front in the National league third base balloting with 144,702 votes. Andy Pafko of the Chicago Cubs was in second place with 139,648.

Birdie Tebbetts of the Boston Red Sox took over No. 1 spot among the American league catchers replacing Buddy Rosar of the Philadelphia Athletics. Tebbetts has 149,063 votes to Rosar's 143,505.

Heavy Battlers to Try Third Time

Fans Storm Gates For Money Refunds

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK — (UP) — The twice-postponed title fight between Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott was threatened today with another delay and a severe curtailment of the gate.

Late afternoon or evening showers were forecast for today.

If this prediction proved as correct as those for last night and Wednesday, the heavyweight championship battle at Yankee stadium would be shifted to Saturday night, which has the promise of clear weather.

Ring historians cannot recall a modern heavyweight title bout's being staged on a Saturday.

Champion and challenger got as far as their dressing rooms last night before the deluge drenched the stadium. And more than $850,000 worth of tickets had been sold, according to Sol Strauss of the 20th Century club.

WILL BE LUCKY

If the 34-year-old Negroes reach the ring tonight, Strauss will be lucky if $500,000 has been paid to witness their return 15-round brawl.

Because of the two deferments and today's unfavorable forecast, visiting fans—at least—were expected to storm the box offices for refunds on tickets or ticket-stubs.

That jupe pluvius had landed a stunning blow on the gate was indicated last night when representatives of ticket speculators were offering choicest ringside seats at their face value of $50, or for less.

Louis, who returned to his camp at Pompton Lakes, N. J. last night, was scheduled to motor back to the stadium late today. Walcott remained at a downtown hotel. Both went to bed early last night and both were scheduled for brisk hikes today.

Rain Fails To Halt Big Golf Show

TOLEDO — The boys who spent some time yesterday in the pro shop fixing up their clubs were the stars of the rain-swept opening round of the $11,650 Inverness 11th annual four-ball matches.

While most of the 16-player all star cast was on the practice tees and greens, big Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind., the former PGA champion; Herman Keiser, the former Masters king from Akron, O., and Ed Furgol, the Detroit sensation with the rigid left arm, were using files and emery wheels.

WHITTLE CLUBS

Hamilton and Keiser were whittling some too-deep ridges off the faces of their irons after PGA Tournament Manager George Schneiter had ruled the tools were just a mite off specifications. Furgol was taking a bit off his clubs because he said they were too heavy.

Keiser and his partner, big Clayton Haefner of Charlotte, N. C., wheeled right out front with a five up victory over former open champion Lloyd Mangrum and curly-haired Dick Metz, clipping seven strokes off par with a 64.

Hamilton and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock popped up with eight birdies and a 63, best score of the day, in downing Johnny Palmer and "skip" Alexander, both of North Carolina, two up.

And Furgol aided no end by Bobby Locke, the South African king, piled up the biggest mess of birdies—nine—in winning two up with a 30-34—64 over Chick Harbert, Detroit clouter, and Vic Ghezzi, another former PGA winner, from the seventh through the 12th holes. Furgol and Locke scored six straight birdies but lost some of their edge when they missed par on two of the late holes.

Harbert, after the match declared:

"They'll probably be calling Vic and me the 'smorgasboard entry' because everybody feasts on us."

In the other match the tourney favorites, transplanted Texans Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., and Ben Hogan, the National open and PGA champion, from Hershey, Pa., sauntered to a three-up victory over Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis and Jim Ferrier the Australian-born PGA winner in 1947.

As they go into today's double round, the standing is:

Haefner-Keiser, plus 5; Hogan-Demaret, plus 3; Locke-Furgol, plus 2; Harrison-Hamilton, plus 2; Harbert-Ghezzi, minus 2; Palmer-Alexander, minus 2; Middlecoff-Ferrier, minus 3; Mangrum-Metz, minus 5.

Tribe Tries Out Three Players

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Three Negro players have received trials with the Cleveland Indians during the past week but have not yet been signed to contracts, Tribe President Bill Veeck reported today.

The trio included Pitcher Henry Miller, 27, from the Philadelphia stars of the Negro National league; hurler Pat Scantlebury, 25, of the Negro National league champion New York Cubans, and Outfielder Fred Thomas, 23, from the Quebec, Can., Farnham team of the Privincial league.

Veeck said the Indians' management had not yet reached a decision upon whether the players have Major league talent.

Fesler Denies He Would Accept Pittsburgh Offer

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Wesley Fesler says he has a job to do at his alma mater—Ohio State—and is not interested in becoming athletic director at Pittsburgh.

The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette said yesterday that Fesler denied hearing from anyone at Pitt about the job but wasn't interested anyway.

The newspaper said Fesler had been mentioned frequently as a possible successor to Athletic Director Jimmy Hagen whose resignation is to become effective July 1.

"I have not heard from anyone at Pitt and I wouldn't be interested if I did," Fesler told the newspaper from his home at Columbus last night. "I've got a difficult task at Ohio and I've made up my mind to solve it."

Fesler said he had made up his mind to "lick this thing or get out of the coaching business. We will be improved this season but it's tough competition in the western conference."

Fesler coached at Pitt in 1946, leaving for Ohio State last year.

Ohio State May Drop Panthers

PITTSBURGH—(U.P.)—The University of Pittsburgh football team today faced the possible loss of their biggest gate attraction with announcement that the Ohio State Buckeyes may drop Pitt from their schedule after 1949.

Ohio State Athletic Director Dick Larkin said in Columbus yesterday that no final decision would be made until the western conference schedule meeting next december.

But he added that because of "previous commitments, it looks like we will have to discontinue the Buckeye-Panther series in 1950 and '51."

Larkin emphasized that no bad feeling exists between the two schools, and that, on the contrary, each school has netted near-record gate receipts at each meeting of the two schools.

June Racing Season Ends at Ascot Park

AKRON—(U.P.)—The June racing season at nearby Ascot Park will come to an end tomorrow with the eighth running of the two-mile Ascot gold cup, the state's richest running horse race.

The Gold Cup was first run in 1941 for a purse of $400. The purse for tomorrow's classic is $6,000.

Bucks to Enlist

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Coach Wes Fesler of Ohio State university said today he expected most members of his Buck football team to enlist in the Ohio National Guard. Otherwise, they would be subject to draft call at the conclusion of their next school year.

Hamilton Schools To Change Tourneys

By JOHN BARRINGTON, INS Sports Writer

COLUMBUS—Butler county, traditionally one of Ohio's high school basketball hotbeds, no longer is going to dissipate all its strength in fruitless intracine warfare.

Hamilton Public and Hamilton Catholic, two members of the county's outstanding cage triumvirate, simply have applied an old army strategy. Tired of trying to conquer the well-nigh impregnable Middletown fortress, they are going to bypass the obstacle.

In short, the two Hamilton schools have asked for, and received, permission to play in the Cincinnati district tournament rather than the previously assigned one at Dayton.

The switch seems likely to make everyone happy except the Greater Cincinnati schools who will be forced to cope with the Big Blue and the Catholic Rams.

HAS BEEN COOKING

Some such move has been cooking for a long time. The situation was frustrating to say the least when Hamilton Public and Middletown were forced, year after year, to risk eliminating one another in the lowest rung of the tourney ladder.

In recent years, the blossoming of Catholic as a cage power has made the setup even more unhappy.

In 1947, for instance, Hamilton Public edged Middletown twice in regular season play, but the Middies took a two-point district tournament decision and went on to a state championship.

Last winter, the Big Blue again fell victim to Middletown, by a single point, 47-46. The Middies, of course, were upset later, while Hamilton Catholic, in the opposite bracket, eventually was runner-up to Findlay for the state championship.

IS LEGITIMATE

The transfer of the two Hamilton schools from Dayton to Cincinnati was perfectly legitimate. The transaction was approved by the southwestern district athletic board, which controls both tourneys.

Actually, Hamilton is considerably nearer geographically to Cincinnati than to Dayton. Moreover, the Dayton eliminations were congested by 21 teams last winter, while only 13 played at Cincinnati. Two Daytor survivors and one from Cincinnati formerly wound up in regional play together.

It goes without saying that the Cincinnati schools will look upon the invasion of the Hamiltonians with disfavor. Generally speaking, the caliber of cage play in the Queen city is not high, and there is a good possibility that the outsiders from Butler county will dominate the tourney.
